7th International Nonlinear Science Conference,
April, 6-8, 2017
Paracelsus Medical University Salzburg

Dear colleagues,

please see attached the invitation to participate at the 7th International Nonlinear Science Conference, which will take place in Salzburg at the Paracelsus Medical University, from the 6th to the 8th of April. The registration and the submission of papers and posters is possible by the conference website as indicated in the invitation attached to this mail. The aim of the conference is also outlined in the invitation paper and on the website.

The registration fees are as follows:

SCTPLS members (regular, professional): $330 (311 Euro)

Non-members (regular professional): $425 (401 Euro)

SCTPLS student members: $280 (264 Euro)

Student non-members: $360 (339 Euro)

Please note that this are the early bird registration rates, which are valid until March, 8th, 2017.

We hope that the conference will be a place of intense and fruitful scientific discussions, of exchanges between science and practice, and will contribute to the emergence of new ideas and pathways to the future of complexity science, nonlinear dynamics, and self-organization theory in psychology and the life sciences.

Sincerely yours

Univ.-Prof. Dr. Günther Schiepek

Head of the Institute of Synergetics and Psychotherapy Research
